Eye love coffee

Research, published in the Journal of Agricultural and Food Chemistry, found that a main ingredient in raw coffee—chlorogenic acid, or CLA—may protect against deteriorating eyesight and possible blindness from retinal degeneration due to glaucoma, aging or diabetes.

Closing shot

A hand holds a smartphone that frames a landscape of a long, straight road leading to a billboard. The billboard displays a laptop, a cardboard box, and a location pin. The background of the billboard is a blue sky with a white cloud. The overall scene is set against a light gray background with a subtle circular pattern.
